FEW CANDIDATES HAVE OPPOSITION

Seventy-Two Democrats Are Unopposed for House of Delegates.

CONTESTS NOMINAL

Only Two Active Contests Are On for Seats in State Senate.

venty-two Democratic candidates for the next House of Delegates have opposition in the general election to be held on November 4. The State Democratic ticket has only nominal opposition from the Socialist Labor party. For the House of Delegates there are contests in twenty-four counties, four of which are entitled to two seats, making twenty-eight seats which are more or less in doubt. In many of these cases the opposition is in name only, while in a few instances, mainly in the Ninth and Fifth Congressional Districts, there is possiallity of Republican success. The contest in Rockingham County, which is Senator George B. Keezell, in whose behalf lienry C. Stuart, Democratic candidate for Governor, recently made an address.

Three independent candidates have announced themeselves in Augusta and Staunton in opposition to the regular Democratic nominees, both of whom are "dry" men. In Campbell County a Socialist candidate opposes the Democratic nominee. Floyd County has three candidates, a Democrat, a Republican and a Progressive. In most cases, however, the opposition candidates have preferred to label themselves as "Independent," with a hope of drawing to themselves all disaffected from the Democratic party. In Mathews and Middlesex the Independent candidate admits that he does not expect to win. By putting his name on the ticket he is said to be paving the way to contest the sent of the Democratic nominee.

Some of the Contests.

The Prince Edward contest is still nding in court. At the last minute court injunction prevented the name of Dr. Peter Winston from going on the primary ballot, and, in default of opposition, the nomination went on the face of the primary to E. Warren Wall, subject to the court's decision as to Dr. Winston's eligibility. There is no opposition outside of the party. Unofficial information received by state officers at the Capitol is to the effect that a compromise will be effected by which Dr. Wintson will be declared the party nominee. Republicans Divided.

In Smyth County, where there is no Democratic candidate, the Republicans are fighting among themselves, former State Senator A. T. Lincoln being the authorized candidate, on a "dry" platauthorized candidate, on a "dry" platform, opposed by W. V. B. Tilson, Independent Republican, who charges Mr.
Lincoln with party irregularity in failing to support Lou Summers for the State Senate from that district. In Tazewell and Buchanan there is no
Democratic nomination, but the Progressives and Republicans are to have a show-down of the arrowship of these a show-down of the strength of those two parties. The contests being made in Spotsylvania and Stafford by inde-pendent candidates are not regarded as serious menace to Democratic success, nor is it thought here that the seat of Judge Martin Williams, of Giles ounty, is in any danger from his Republican opponent.

Contests of more or less importance are listed in the following legislative districts: Augusta and Staunton (two scats); Botetourt, Campbell, Carroll, Dickinson and Wise, Floyd, Goochland and Fluvanna, Giles and Bland, Grayson, Henry, Lee, Mathews and Middle-sex, Montgomery and Radford, Nor-folk City (two seats): Patrick, Prince Edward, Rockingham (two sents); Scott, Shenandoah, Smyth, Spotsylvania and Fredericksburg, Stafford and King George, Tazewell and Buchanan, Wash-ington and Eristol (two seats)

The Senate Situation.
While in one or two insta

While in one or two instances as indicated above the enabling act is made an issue in House campaigns, it has not generally been regarded as a matter of importance in the House as the attitude of that body is already as the attitude of that body is already known. The House passed the bill at the last session, and according to those with the keep closely in touch with the Folkes opposed the enabling act, and situation, will pass it again, though probably with a slightly reduced majority. The fight on that issue lies, as it did at the last session, in the Sentate, where it was defeated two years ago by eight votes. There are no public announcements that Senators on the Twenty-second District, composed of Bedford and Rockbridge.

Charlottesville, Va. October 22.—Dean James M. Page announced to-day that the next Japanese scholar to visit the University of Virginia on the lectureship foundation established in 1911 between the United States and Japan, would be Dr. Shosuke Sato, dean of the Agricultural College of Toheku, or Northeastern University, Japan. The date of his visit to Virginia has not been definitely decided. Dean Page thinks it will be early in January. The division of education of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace is now arranging the idinerary for the lecturer.

Dr. Sato is a distinguished scholar, teacher, lecturer and writer. He is fifty-seven years old and has been a leader in the educational life of Japan for many years. His father was Shozo Sato, a Samural of Iwate. He received his collegiate education at the Sappero Agricultural College, where he was graduated with highest honors in 1880. Then he came to the United States and entered upon graduate studies in economics and pollitical science at Johns Hopkins University, Hallimore, After spending three years at Johns Hopkins he went to Germany and spent two years traveling and studying at various German universities. In 1886 he was appointed professor of agricultural college of Tohoku University.

Dr. Sato has won wide recognition in his native land and in Continental Europe for his achievements in scholarship, He has received many honors, among them the decoration of the Third Order of Merit. He speaks English fluently and comes to America heralded as a true scholar and an cloquent lecturer.

The first lecturer on this foundation was Dr. Imazo Nitobe, who is well remembered for a delightful series of lectures at the university given in the spring of 1912. Dr. Nitobe is also a graduate of Johns Hopkins and a leading Japanese scholar.

This lecture foundation includes only six American universities—Virginia, Illinois, Columbia, Johns Hopkins, Brown and Minnesota.

THE OTHER SIDE

Fair-minded business men recognize the fact that there are two sides to every question. Attention has been indirectly called to the Maryland Tri-State Business Directory, to be issued early in 1914. We are gratified to see that our proposed publication is considered a dangerous competitor. Does that not speak well for its good qualities. Our Directory is not a State, but a Tri-State Directory. It is unique and will do what has not yet been done by any directory. The price is $2, and at that attractive price we are securing subscriptions in all the cities and towns of more than 1,000 population in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia, thus giving wide circulation to the business directories of the cities, which are, of course, a part of the book.

In this way the Directory of Richmond will be scattered over three States, where it has never before been seen. We believe the business men of Richmond will co-operate with us when we thus benefit them by beosting Richmond through this publicity. The subscription price is only $2, and the advertising rates very reasonable. We only ask that our representative be given a fair hearing.

Our bank references are the German Savings Bank and the National Exchange Bank of Baltimore. Very truly yours.
